

Towngas Energy Investment, Ruihua (Shenzhen) & Shenzhen Fuxin join hands to propel Futian Investment Holdings to energy-saving and carbon-reducing industry

(5 August 2022) Towngas Energy Investment Limited (a subsidiary of Towngas Smart Energy), Shenzhen Fuxin Dual Carbon Industry Operation Management Company Limited (深圳市福新雙碳產業運營管理有限公司, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Futian Investment Holdings), and Ruihua (Shenzhen) Integrated Smart Energy Company Limited (co-established by China Power International Development Limited and The Hong Kong and China Gas Company Limited), announced to jointly develop the energy-saving, carbon-reducing and transformative Energy Management Contract project for the public buildings in Futian, in line with the national dual carbon goals.

The Futian District Party Committee Compound is designated as a pilot site in this "near-zero carbon" emission project, which integrates elements of smart low-carbon technology, high-efficiency and energy-saving, along with architectural aesthetics in a "national near-zero carbon model", leading the way in cutting-edge technology for new energy transformation and taking the lead in establishing the first near-zero carbon flexible virtual power plant on the Chinese mainland.

Moreover, this low-carbon and energy-saving project will set a benchmark and provide the experience for the whole city and even the country in promoting the dual carbon goals in public institutions. In total, the project covers 129 public institutions, including large office parks, schools, hospitals, party schools, convention and exhibition centres, technology innovation cooperation zones etc.
